New Assignment! "Endangered Views"

Effective with this 25th anniversary issue of Stereo World, the new Assignment is "Endangered Views." The category refers to any structure, area, creature, plant, occupation, culture or activity in need of stereoscopic documentation before it disappears forever, regardless of the reason. Any number of animals obviously qualify for this assignment, but so do less challenging subjects like buildings that didn't quite make any historic list, rural lands scheduled for development, factories, small farms, small retail outlets etc. If you visit coastal areas, consider documenting estuaries, beaches, roads or structures that could be affected if sea levels rise as far and as fast as some of the more recent and pessimistic climate warming estimates indicate.

This "Favorite" is "Rosemont Covered Bridge" by Norm Appleton of Clive, IA. The 1883 bridge is 107 feet long and is located in Winterset, IA. It was featured in the movie Bridges of Madison County.

Among the remaining entries in the "One of Your Favorites" Assignment, this print pair of the Grand Palace in Bangkok by Ron Ellis of Melbourne, FL, drew a lot of attention. The view is alongside the outside north wall of the Temple of the Emerald Buddha, and was taken sequentially on Fuji 400 with a Minolta 30001.
