Stereo Exhibits in NYC

Those visiting New York City on the way to or from the Buffalo convention can see two stereo

George Barker No. 149, "horseshoe Fall - Niagara On line of N.Y.C. & H.R.R.R." The 19th century Niagara landmark Terrapin Tower featured here is long gone, but a much higher and uglier tower now awaits visitors to the Buffalo/Niagara area.

exhibits by NSA member Lynn Butler. "Waking Dreams" with 25 Stereo-Jets, two Phantograms (anaglyphs) 7 feet by 9 feet and three stereo-viewer pieces with Dream Sequences can be seen at The Hudson River Museum, 511 Warburton Avenue, Yonkers, NY, 10701 (914) 963-4550, June 12th through September 15th. "Horses" with two digital Phantograms 7 feet by 9 feet is the second show (which will travel around the country), at the Brooklyn Museum of Art, 200 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, NY, 11238, (718) 638-5000, June 22nd through September 5th.

A Note to Stereo Historians Headed for Buffalo:

I am currently conducting research on the history of the stereograph/stereoscope in the United States from 1865 to 1970. In particular, I am interested in the roles played by the major producers of stereo material, such as the Kilburn Brothers (and other Littleton, New Hampshire-based companies), H.C. White, Underwood & Underwood, and the Keystone View Company. I am very interested in making contact with
